Become a Global Chemical Engineer – Join AIChE

In this day and age when Chemical Engineering has become globalized, issues like energy, climate change and sustainability lie at the forefront of the challenges that you will have to face in the near future when you graduate.

The American Institute of Chemical Engineers (AIChE), being a worldwide leading organization, would like to invite you to become a member of AIChE to help us face the future challenges of the world.

As an international student member, whether undergraduate (B.S.) or graduate (M.S./PhD.), you will be able to network with colleagues all over the world who are in the forefront of applying advanced chemical engineering technology to solve energy and sustainability challenges.

What are the major benefits that you will have as an international student?

- The AIChE eLibrary – Your AIChE Student Membership entitles you to 24-hour online access to the AIChE eLibrary, on and off campus—with invaluable resources such as Perry's Chemical Engineers' Handbook, Lange's Handbook of Chemistry, as well as many other interactive scientific references, handbooks, standards, databases, charts and graphs.
- Social Networking Universe – Meet and greet fellow students and professionals on AIChE Facebook and LinkedIn, the exclusive, fast-growing and globally-linked online communities. Also access the AIChE online directory to connect with members around the world.
- Free Division/Forum Membership – Exclusively for undergraduate student members: Free membership in up to TWO Divisions or Forums, from environmental to nuclear engineering to sustainability. Choose from 14 Divisions and 6 Forums.
- CareerEngineer – Everything you need to get your internship and next job is here at AIChE's Career Management Center – use AIChE's CareerToolsPLUS! to drive you through your job search. Resumé writing, interview prep and networking online tutorials, plus access to industry research and career coaching. And load your resumé and find jobs on CareerEngineer – the only ChemE focused job board where employers come to AIChE to find qualified interns and professionals.
- Competitions – From individual competitions like the Student Design Competition and Chem-E-Car to competitions that involve teams from universities around the world, there is a contest for everyone.
- ChemE on Demand – AIChE's latest online content initiative, ChemE on Demand is a multi-media digital library ... training center ... and information forum for chemical engineers all wrapped up into one convenient resource. Undergraduate students get free, unlimited access to all archived content including webinars, meeting sessions, and more.

- Online Publications – Stay up-to-date with cutting edge technologies through online subscriptions to Chemical Engineering Progress, AIChE's flagship magazine, as well as AIChExchange, the monthly e-newsletter with special ScaleUp Student Editions three times a year.
- Member Discounts – Take advantage of discounted rates on AIChE journals and publications.
- SACHE Certificate – A valued by industry Certificate of Safety Achievement is presented by the Safety and Chemical Engineering Education Program (SACHE) & AIChE to AIChE undergraduate students who demonstrate proficiency in process safety training modules developed for SACHE (applicable to members of an AIChE International Student Chapter with $300 paid dues to SACHE). At the completion of the academic year, a formal letter will be sent to your department chair as well as sponsoring companies and corporations. Additionally, your name will appear recognizing your achievement on the SACHE website.

What is the cost for becoming an international student member of AIChE?

- If you are an undergraduate student, you will pay a flat fee of US $7 per year.
- If you are a graduate student, you will pay the lower of $50 per year, or the professional membership dues that apply to your country.

Chemical Engineering Professors: Establish an International AIChE Student Chapter

- With more than 160 Student Chapters worldwide, you are never too far from AIChE activity. Student Chapters meet on campus and are an important resource for networking with fellow Chemical Engineering majors at your university and practicing chemical engineers.
- Student Chapters also keep you up to speed on mentoring opportunities, upcoming conferences, scholarships and competitions. In addition, you'll stay current on new technologies. For information on how to establish an AIChE Student Chapter at your university, please contact: Lowell Aplebaum, lowea@aiche.org.
